BABU DWIJENDRANATH TAGORE,

President, Bangiya Sahitya Parishad,

TO

J. H. GILLILAND, ESQ., M.A.,

Registrar, Calcutta University.

Calcutta, the 31st May, 1897.

SIR,

As President of the Bangiya Sahitya Parishad, a literary association which has had the honour of addressing the University on the question of encouraging the vernacular languages and literature of India, I beg to submit the following propositions for the consideration of the Syndicate, and to request the favour of your laying them before the Syndicate at its next meeting.

2. I should, at the outset, state that though the propositions submitted by me may at first sight appear to be calculated to lower the standards of our examinations, they will in reality raise instead of lowering the standard of education which the examinations are intended to test. If the object of education is not merely to store the mind with knowledge, but to call forth and develop its powers so as to fit it for the investigation and comprehension of truth, increase in the courses of study, which does not leave time for thorough and thoughtful reading, lowers instead of raising the standard of education ; while a judicious reduction in the quantity of matter to be read, may improve the quality of the reading by giving the student more time to think over what he reads. There is a widespread complaint that the course for the F. A. Examination generally, and those for the Entrance and M. A. Examinations in certain particular subjects, are too long and difficult to be read and understood thoroughly by any but exceptionally intelligent students. It is with a view to remove the ground of this complaint, and to give our students more time to think over what they read, that this letter is submitted to the Syndicate.

3. My propositions are shortly these :—

I. That for the Entrance Examination—

- (a) the Fourth Book of Euclid be omitted from the course, as being comparatively of little use to the general student ;
- (b) Physical Geography as a complete subject be omitted from the course as too difficult ; but that some text-book explaining some of the ordinary elementary notions on the subject be prescribed ;
- (c) in lieu of the present text-book in the English history a simpler and a shorter text-book on the subject be prescribed ;
- (d) in lieu of Clarke's Class Book of Geography and the Manual of Geography by the Christian Literature Society, which are a little too long, some more elementary text-book on Geography be prescribed ;
- (e) the second paper in the Second Languages be, with a view to encourage the study of vernacular literature, made to contain, in addition to passages for translation, questions on prescribed text-books in an allied vernacular language ; and
- (f) the method of prescribing text-books on Grammar be modified so as to encourage the study of Grammar so far as it is a help towards learning languages.

II. That for the First Examination in Arts—

- (a) with a view to lighten a little the burden that weighs on the students, and to give fuller and freer scope to the option that is now allowed with regard to certain subjects, the subjects be grouped as follows:—

- 1. English.
- 2. A Second Language.

and Sanskrit and Sanskritic Languages in so far as they affect the subjects of the respective Boards.

76. Read a letter from the Officiating Director of Public Instruction, Assam, stating that the Deputy Commissioner of the Khasi and Jaintia Hills, Shillong, is unwilling to conduct the Entrance Examination, which has been held for many years in his Cutchery building, and suggesting that the Rev. J. C. Evans, Head Master, Shillong Government High School, may be entrusted with the work of conducting the examination in his school premises.

ORDERED—

That the Rev. J. C. Evans, Head Master, Shillong Government High School, be entrusted with the work of conducting the Entrance Examination in his school premises.

77. Read a letter from the Principal, Maharaja's College, Jaypur, requesting that Jaypur may be appointed a centre for holding the Entrance, F. A. and B. A. Examinations of this University.

ORDERED—

That the Principal, Maharaja's College, Jaypur, be informed that the Syndicate regret they are unable to accede to his request.

78. Read a letter from Rani Padmasundari Debi, Proprietress, Krishnachandra College, Hitampur, furnishing detailed information regarding the Managing Committee of the college as required in this office letter No. 16, dated the 17th May, 1897, and requesting that early steps may be taken for the affiliation of the college up to the F. A. Standard.

RESOLVED—

That the Secretary to the Government of India, in the Home Department, be requested to move His Excellency the Governor-General in Council to sanction the affiliation of the Krishnachandra College, Hitampur, to this University in Arts up to the F. A. Standard.

79. The Registrar submitted the following list of schools which, on the average of the three preceding

Entrance Examinations, failed to pass 20 per cent. of the candidates sent up for examination :—

	1895.		1896.		1897.		Percentage of successful candidates.

ORDERED—

(i) That the Head Masters of Barpeta High School, Berhampur Hindu Academy, and St. John's College S. P. G., Rangoon, be informed that as they have failed to pass 20 per cent. of the candidates sent up by them for examination, the names of their schools are liable to be struck off the lists of recognised schools, and they be required to send to the Registrar at once any explanation which they may desire to make, or reasons which they may wish to give for the names not being so struck off, and also that they be requested to show what steps they propose to take to improve the teaching in their respective schools.

(ii) That the Head Masters of Dacca Imperial Seminary, Darbar School, Nepal, Islam High School,

L. M. School, Baduria, Sgaw Karan High School, Bassein, and Sonamukhi Jubilee School, be warned that if their schools continue in future years to show unsatisfactory results, their names are liable to be struck off the lists of Recognised Schools.

80. Read an endorsement from the Inspector of Schools, Presidency Circle, forwarding a copy of a report from the Deputy Inspector of Schools, Murshidabad, relating to the Kanchantala Diamond Jubilee Institution, and recommending that that institution may be recognised as a High School qualified to send up candidates to the Entrance Examination.

ORDERED—

That the Kanchantala Diamond Jubilee Institution be recognised as a High School qualified to send up candidates to the Entrance Examination.

81. Read an application from the Secretary, Nabinagar H. E. School, Tipperah, requesting that the school may be recognised by the Syndicate, and submitting a certificate in original from the Inspector of Schools, Eastern Circle, in support of the application.

ORDERED—

That the Nabinagar H. E. School, Tipperah, be recognised as a High School qualified to send up candidates to the Entrance Examination.

82. Read an endorsement from the Inspector-General of Education, Central Provinces, forwarding, with his recommendation, an application from the Honorary Secretary, Zorastrian High School, Mhow, requesting that the Institution may be recognised by the Syndicate as a High School.

therein set forth, the certificate granted for the recognition of the Indas High School in the District of Bankura, may not now be withdrawn.

ORDERED—

That the consideration of the matter be deferred till the next meeting of the Syndicate on the 10th July, 1897.

84. Read a letter from the Secretary, American Methodist Institution, requesting that the Calcutta Boys School, Native Branch, may henceforth be recognised by the Syndicate under the name of "American Methodist Institution."

ORDERED—

That the Calcutta Boys' School, Native Branch, be henceforth recognised by the name of "American Methodist Institution."

85. Read a letter from Mr. J. G. Woodroffe, Tagore Law Professor for 1896-97, requesting permission to have his lectures printed by Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co.

ORDERED—

That Mr. J. G. Woodroffe be informed that he is authorised to have his Tagore Law Lectures printed by Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co., on the understanding that the University is not to pay more than Rs. 1,200, that the size of the pages is to be the same as usual, and that he bears one-third of the cost of composition.

86. Read a letter from the Superintendent of the Cooch-Bihar State, suggesting that lectures delivered on such days as are not observed as holidays by the State should be allowed to count towards the qualifying percentage of attendance, and that the Cooch-Bihar holiday list should be adopted for the State College instead of the one published by the Government of Bengal.

ORDERED—

That the Superintendent of the Cooch-Bihar State be informed that as the Victoria College, Cooch-Bihar, is affiliated up to the B.A. Standard, it is open to the college authorities to grant holidays on such days as they please. The University requires a certain qualifying percentage of the lectures delivered in the college, but does not interfere with the number or dates of such lectures.

87. Read a letter from Babu Gaurisankar De, M. A., B.L., Professor of Mathematics, General Assembly's Institution, and a Member of the Senate, stating that Salmon's Higher Plane Curves (a subject for the 4th paper at the M. A. ORDERED—

That the Examiners in Mathematics (Group A) at the next M. A. Examination be at once informed that in paper 4, to every question set on Higher Plane Curves, a question from subject 5 should be set in the alternative.

88. Read a letter from the Under-Secretary to the Government of Bengal, requesting that, a question having arisen as to whether a candidate who has passed the B. A. Examination of the Punjab University can be held to have received an education not below the standard of the B. A. ORDERED—

That the Government of Bengal be informed that it is impossible for the Syndicate to appraise the relative standards of the B. A. degree in the Punjab and Calcutta Universities. 148. Read the following report of the Committee appointed by the Faculty at their meeting held on the 4th August, 1894, to consider a memorandum from Mr. A. Pedler, F.R.S., and Dr. P. K. Ray, on the position of Science in the scheme of University Education in Bengal, and the necessity of instituting degrees in Science :—

We, the Members of a Committee appointed by the Faculty of Arts to consider a memorandum by Mr. Alexander Pedler, F.R.S., and Dr. P. K. Ray, have the honour to submit our report.

We are of opinion that it is desirable to institute the Degrees of Doctor in Science and Doctor in Literature for the encouragement of original research by graduates of this University. We beg to recommend that the Draft Regulations appended to this Report be adopted for this purpose.

We are not prepared to recommend, at present, the institution of Degrees in Science and Literature inferior to the Degree of Doctor.

With reference to the memorandum of Mr. Griesbach remitted to us by the Syndicate, we are of opinion that the object Mr. Griesbach had in view will be sufficiently secured by defining the limits of Geology and Mineralogy under paragraph 6 of the Rules for the Premchand Roychand Studentships, so as to fall in, as far as practicable, with Mr. Griesbach's scheme as a whole, or as adapted by Mr. Pedler.

Dated the 8th April, 1897.

While agreeing to the proposals on the merits, I am unable to subscribe to the above Report, as it is open to a serious objection. The Premchand Roychand Studentship Examination is one for the award of Scholarship only, and being conducted in accordance with the Rules framed by the Senate, is not recognised by the Regulations, which derive their authority from the Governor-General in Council.

One way of meeting this difficulty is to revise the proposed Regulations so as to make them complete in themselves by defining the nature and standard of the examinations, and describing them as Examinations for Doctor's Degrees, and then the Rules for the award of the Premchand Roychand Studentship may be so amended as to make it depend on the results of those examinations.

MAHENDRANATH RAY.

3rd May, 1897.

I am of opinion that the higher Degree of D. Sc. should be instituted only on a broad and sound basis of a lower Degree of B. Sc. (as in the London and Scottish Universities). The preliminary qualifications required for the Premchand Roychand Studentship Examination in Scientific subjects, do not necessarily involve such a thorough scientific training as is required for the B. Sc. Degree of the British Universities. I am, therefore, unable to agree to the above proposals.

Calcutta, the 21st February, 1896.

SIR,

I have the honour to state that the enclosed proposals for a revised standard in Geology for the M. A. Examination have been submitted to the Government of India, by Mr. C L Griesbach, C.I.E., Superintendent of the Geological Survey of India, who had been requested by that Government to propose a revision of the Geological Course so as to ensure that successful students in that course may be competent for employment as Geologists (whether private or public), so far as competence can be tested by examinations. Mr. Griesbach had previously expressed an opinion adverse to the existing course, as not fitting men for practical Geological work. I request, therefore, that you will be so good as to lay the syllabus before the Syndicate for consideration.

(ii.) That the revised course in Geology, proposed by Mr. C. L. Griesbach, C. I. E., be referred to the Committee appointed by the Faculty of Arts to consider a memorandum by Mr. Pedler and Dr. P. K. Ray on the desirability of instituting degrees in Science."

(Minutes, 1896-97, p. 201.)

Extract from the Proceedings of the Science Degrees Committee, dated the 11th September, 1896.

"Read a memo. from Mr. C. L. Griesbach, C. I. E., submitting a revised course in Geology for the M. A. Examination, which is calculated to ensure competence in the successful students in that subject for employment as Geologists, so far as competence can be tested by examinations.

RESOLVED—

That it is impossible to incorporate Mr. Griesbach's scheme in the present M. A. Examination Regulations.

Mr. Pedler having indicated a possible scheme in which Mr. Griesbach's proposals might be included, it was—

RESOLVED—

That the Committee should adjourn to Thursday, the 12th November, at 4-30 P. M., and that in the meantime Mr. Pedler should be asked to prepare and circulate a plan which would include the proposals of Mr. Griesbach in a scheme involving the introduction of B. Sc. and M. Sc. Degrees in Geology."

A Plan for including Mr. Griesbach's Proposals in a scheme for the institution of the B. Sc. and M. Sc. Degrees in Geology.

In obedience to the request of the Science Degrees Committee, I have endeavoured to work in the proposals made by Mr. Griesbach with our present University Regulations up to the B. A. Honour Standard, after which Mr. Griesbach's proposals necessarily take an entirely separate course.

So far as I am able to judge, the proposal now put forward, which will naturally be considerably modified in Committee, is the only way in which we can attempt to provide a Geology Course as required by the Government of India.

As I indicated at the last meeting of the Committee, it is highly desirable we should attempt to meet the wishes of the Government of India in this matter, for it appears to me that if we refuse the proposal and say we cannot move in the matter, we shall be practically cutting off the possibility of any students of the Calcutta University being offered Geological appointments by the Government of India, or perhaps even by outside public bodies.

As Mining, Geological work, etc., are bound to advance in India with very rapid strides, unless we are prepared to institute degrees which will ensure a thorough Geological training as put forward by Mr. Griesbach, and examinations for the thorough testing of such knowledge, we shall run the grave risk of excluding all students in Bengal, etc., from competing for such work and such appointments. Such a result would of course be lamentable.

As being the easiest way of putting forward the scheme, I have drafted the proposals in the form of Regulations.

PROPOSED REGULATIONS FOR B. SC. IN GEOLOGY.

1. An Examination for the Degree of Bachelor in Science in the subject of Geology shall be held annually at Calcutta and at such other places as shall from time to time be appointed by the Syndicate, and shall commence at such time as the Syndicate shall determine, the date to be approximately notified in the Calendar for the year.

A. Examination. No candidate shall be considered to have prosecuted a regular course of study unless he has attended at least 66 per cent. of the lectures delivered in the Institution to which he belongs in each of the subjects in which he is to be examined. This percentage shall be calculated on the total number of lectures in each subject delivered in the Institution from the commencement of the academical year after the summer vacation. If a student is transferred from one Institution to another in the course of a year, the percentage of attendances in the second Institution shall be calculated on the total number of lectures in each subject delivered in that Institution after the date of the transfer certificate. If a student fails to enter an affiliated Institution before the 1st August, in any year, his attendance for that year shall not, except with the special sanction of the Syndicate, be counted.

To

THE REGISTRAR OF THE

UNIVERSITY OF CALCUTTA.

SIR,

WE have the honour to request you to be good enough to lay before the Syndicate this letter, in which we suggest an alteration in the time of holding the Entrance, F. A. and B. A. Examinations.

Up to the year 1883-84, the Entrance and F. A. Examinations used to be held either in the last week of November or in the first week of December, and the B. A. Examination was held in the first week of January. The schools and colleges were closed for the winter vacation immediately after the Entrance and F. A. Examinations, and re-opened about the middle of January, by which time the results of these examinations were usually published. In 1883, a Committee was, however, appointed to consider the desirability of changing the dates of the University Examinations. The report of this Committee, which will be found on page 49 of the Minutes for 1883-84, was to the effect that the Entrance, F. A. and B. A. Examinations should be held simultaneously in the month of April, that they should be so arranged that they might be concluded in the week ending between the 19th and 25th April, and that only one paper should be given out to the candidates during each day of the examination. So far as we can gather from the report, the chief reason which guided the Committee in making this recommendation, was that the existing arrangement involved serious inconvenience, inasmuch as schools and colleges had to be closed for about six weeks or two months during the best season for work, and the burden of the educational work of the year was thrown on the seasons when students and teachers alike were least able to work with comfort and efficiency. Under the new system thus introduced, the examinations appear to have been held in the month of April in the years 1885 and 1886. But this plan of holding the examinations in one of the hottest months of the year, and prolonging them over two weeks—a necessary consequence of the arrangement of giving out only one paper a day—was found to be eminently unsatisfactory; and in May 1887, at the request of Mr. C. H. Tawney, who was an uncompromising advocate of the system of cold weather examinations, the Syndicate invited the opinions of the Heads of Affiliated Institutions with a view to reconsider the whole question. A large mass of opinions was received, and a Committee was appointed to consider and report on them. But although the majority of opinions received was strongly in favour of reverting to the old system, the Committee found itself unable to recommend such a step, principally on the ground that the new system had not had a sufficient trial; to meet the objections which had been raised, the Committee, however, recommended that the examinations should be held about the end of March (Minutes for 1887-88, page 90). The Syndicate adopted the Report of this Committee with an amendment, namely, that the examinations should be held on the first Monday in March. This change, however, was not appreciated by the Heads of Affiliated Institutions, and the Syndicate again undertook to review the matter in March, 1888. The educational authorities were again invited to favour the Syndicate with their views on the subject, and their opinions will be found fully set forth in the Minutes for 1887-88, page 374. We wish, however, to invite particular attention to a valuable memorandum by the Very Rev. Father A. Neut, then Rector of St. Xavier's College (page 417), in which the opinions of the Heads of Affiliated Institutions are carefully analysed, and the arguments on both sides set forth with great clearness. The majority of these opinions was, as on the previous occasion, strongly in favour of the cold weather examinations; but the Syndicate decided that the date should be further pushed back, and the examinations held in the first week of February.

Let us now examine for a moment the advantages of this system, which has been tried for nine years, and to which we have hitherto so persistently adhered. It would be superfluous to give an elaborate description of a system, the consequence of which has been unmitigated mischief, so widespread that it cannot escape the notice of the most careless observer. Suffice it to say that a system which was introduced with the sole avowed object of benefiting the students, has been followed by the startling result that fully half of every academical year is, in the case of the ten thousand students who are examined every year, practically annihilated for purposes of educational work. That we are not exaggerating matters in the slightest degree will be made obvious if we take a concrete instance. The last F. A. Examination was held on the 20th February, 1893; candidates had to send in their applications by the 9th January, and lectures in the colleges had to be suspended from that date; the results were published early in May, just before the colleges closed for the summer vacation, to re-open on the 27th June; this statement of facts give us some idea of the improved opportunities for learning we have furnished to our students by the introduction of the new system. But if the present arrangement is detrimental to the interests of the candidates who have passed the examinations, it is simply ruinous to the large majority who have failed; under the most favourable circumstances, candidates who are unsuccessful at an examination have to read up in one year subjects to which other students devote double the time; under the existing system they are forced to do so in six months. We repeat no mere meaningless platitude when we say that we ought not any longer to contemplate with indifference this lamentable state of things.

Before suggesting a remedy, we think it advisable to lay down the following fundamental principle which should guide us in selecting the best time for holding the Entrance, F. A. and B. A. Examinations :—

That the examinations should be held immediately before one of the long vacations.

The necessity for this principle is self-evident. For, in the first place, the candidates who appear at these examinations must sit idle during the time (say from six to eight weeks) that the results of the examinations are being prepared; and if the examinations are held in the middle of the session, as at present, this necessarily means waste of time for at least two months in addition to the ordinary holidays of the year. Secondly, as most of the gentlemen who conduct our examinations are lecturers in our Affiliated Institutions, it is clear that if the colleges are not closed immediately after the examinations, either Examiners have to look over papers at high pressure concurrently with other onerous duties—a combination from which grave evils have been, in at least one instance, known to result—or a very long time must be allowed to the Examiners to enable them to do their work efficiently—a circumstance which must lead to that undue delay in the publication of the results which is so injurious to the best interests of our students.

If now the principle is once accepted that the examinations should be held immediately before one of the long vacations, there cannot be any serious doubt as to what course we ought to follow. Before the introduction of the existing system, there used to be three long holidays in the year, namely—(1) the summer vacation, (2) the Durga Puja holidays, and (3) the winter vacation. The plan of holding the examinations immediately before the summer vacation has been tried, and has proved a miserable failure. The plan of holding the examinations before the Durga Puja holidays was discussed by the Committee appointed in 1883 (Minutes for 1883-84, page 49), and was rejected on what appear to us to be very good grounds; as the Committee pointed out, the examinations, if held in September, would fall in the most unhealthy season, and just at the time when the difficulties of travelling are greatest. The only alternative, therefore, which remains, is the holding of the examinations immediately before the winter vacation; and as every experiment that has been tried, every remedy that has been applied, has made the situation worse, we unhesitatingly advocate a return to the old system, which experience has shewn to be, on the whole, the least injurious to the interests of teaching.

We need hardly say that in making this recommendation, we do not overlook the oft repeated objection against cold weather examinations, namely, the closing of the schools and colleges for more than a month during the best season for work. That is undoubtedly an evil, and unfortunately it is a necessary evil. We venture to think, however, that the evil consequences may be minimised if the following suggestions are adopted :—

(1). The Entrance, F. A. and B. A. Examinations should be held simultaneously. This will not render it necessary for Entrance candidates to send in their applications two weeks earlier than F. A. and B. A. candidates.

(2). Candidates have now to send in their applications six weeks before the examinations : this period may easily be shortened to three weeks. The change will, perhaps, render necessary some increase in the strength of the office ; this may be done at a trifling cost by the employment of additional clerks during the examination months.

(3). If the examinations are held immediately before a long vacation, the time allowed to Examiners to look over the answer papers may be considerably reduced.

(4). Examiners should be asked to adhere strictly to Rule 12 of the Rules for Examinations (Calendar for 1893, page 123). This will make it possible to carry on the work of tabulation simultaneously with the work of examination.

(5). It should be made clear that under Rule 13 of the Rules for Examinations (Calendar for 1893, page 123), the re-examination of Entrance papers is to be conducted by the junior Examiners. We think that if the direction contained in paragraph 2 of Rule 13 is strictly followed, matters may easily be so arranged that the work of re-examination ought not to take more than a week.

(6). Delay in the publication of the results may be further avoided by the adoption of the system which was tried by Mr. Nash for two years with great success, namely, sending out the results to the schools and colleges as soon as they are ready, and before the provisions of Rules 13 and 18 are carried out.

We have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servants,

MAHENDRALAL SIRCAR, .
ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAY

To

THE REGISTRAR, CALCUTTA UNIVERSITY.

SIR,

I BEG to invite your attention to the delay in publishing the results of the University examinations

The delay appears to be due to two causes : the first is that most of the Examiners cannot devote their whole time to the work of examination, in consequence of their being engaged in the performance of their ordinary duties as professors and the like ; and the second is the re-examination system

As to the re-examination system, it affects only a comparatively small number of candidates, and there is no reason why the great majority should be kept in the painful state of suspense for so long a time.

It would relieve the candidates (if not their guardians also) of the anxiety, and would besides prevent the great loss of their time, if provisional lists of passed and plucked candidates be issued to the authorities of the schools. I understand that such lists are issued to the authorities of the schools at hill stations ; and I think one of the Registrars considered this distinction in favour of the said schools unjustifiable, and so he did issue similar lists to all the schools. But this was done only once, as the University lost his valuable services too soon.

I beg to suggest the adoption of that course. I think you may yourself do it if you please, at any rate, in consultation with the Vice-Chancellor, as a reference to the Syndicate would cause delay.

I beg further to suggest that in future the Examiners and Head Examiners be required to devote their whole time to the work of the examination, and to be present in Calcutta until the work is over.

I beg the favour of your placing this matter before the Vice-Chancellor and the Members of the Syndicate for their consideration.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

153. Father Lafont proposed the first item on the Agenda of business in the following terms:—

“MR. VICE-CHANCELLOR AND GENTLEMEN,

I confess that I feel it an honour and a privilege to be allowed to move this first Resolution: an honour, because I consider that, to be instrumental in doing honour to one to whom honour is due, is in itself an honour, a privilege, because I have been looking out for an opportunity such as the present, to discharge my debt of gratitude towards my friend, Dr. Mahendralal Sircar.

The Bye-law relating to the conferring of Honorary Degrees mentions, as qualifications, the eminent position and attainments of the person proposed for the distinction, and I take it that Dr. Sircar will be recognised by all here present, as a man of light and leading amongst his countrymen.

Gentlemen, I had the privilege of being associated with Dr. Sircar, for a quarter of a century, in his labour of love : Dr. Sircar has the merit of having discovered, at an early stage, that of all the good things that come from the West to the East, Science, properly so-called, is the safest and the most useful. He recognised the fact that the Western sciences may be accepted in their entirety by India, without the necessity of picking, choosing or rejecting, as is the case in many other departments of knowledge. He saw this and made up his mind to found the Indian Association for the Cultivation of Science, a good and noble undertaking, which he managed to complete in spite of difficulties innumerable, not the least being the opposition made (in good faith, I dare say) by some of his countrymen. Nothing daunted in his resolve, my friend went about patiently collecting funds for his pet scheme : he succeeded after laborious efforts to interest in the cause, some of his wealthy friends, both Mahomedans and Hindus, and even Chiefs and Princes belonging to other Presidencies. He waxed truly eloquent in his appeal for funds, and I remember, when I once accompanied him on a visit to the late lamented Maharaja of Vizianagram, how my good friend so touched the heart of that noble man, that then and there he made the princely donation which enabled Dr. Sircar to erect the Laboratory which bears the name of Vizianagram.

But, gentlemen, Dr. Sircar was not a man to rest satisfied with collecting money and building premises for the Science Association : he himself put his shoulder to the wheel and generously sacrificed all hopes of wealth to devote himself to the work. Most of you are aware that if Dr. Sircar had given himself wholly to the practice of his profession, he would have been a rich man by this time, but no! his views were higher and he spent his talents, his time, and, I am sorry to say, his health in the service of his Association. During more than nineteen years he lectured every week to school-boys, and I have seen him, often, hurrying away from the Lecture-hall to the bedside of a wealthy patient waiting for his ministrations. Yes, gentlemen, during nineteen years Dr. Sircar spared no pains to make the Science Association a success, and he would even now be still at his post in the Lecture-hall, if God had not prostrated him on a bed of sickness.

Gentlemen, you may rest assured that in conferring the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws on Dr. Mahendralal Sircar, you will honour yourselves and this University, for his name is sure to become a household word in the towns and villages of Bengal, as that of the Pioneer of scientific knowledge, and the founder of the National Indian Association for the Cultivation of Science.

I only regret that we are not as yet in a position to confer upon him, instead of the somewhat unmeaning (in his case) degree of D. L., the more appropriate one of Doctor of Science."

Rev. Dr. K. S. Macdonald, in seconding the motion, began by remarking that Dr. Sircar was not only a fit person for the University Honorary Degree, but a person who was pre-eminently so. He drank deeply of Western science, and was a proficient in Eastern lore also. But what commended Dr. Sircar specially to the speaker was his intense earnestness and self-denying devotion towards the rising generation. His efforts, all these many years, to the speaker's own personal knowledge of Dr. Sircar, have been directed with a whole-hearted disinterestedness to the communication of scientific knowledge to the young men of Bengal, and to the making of a provision of a very practical kind to their acquiring this knowledge under the most favourable circumstances with the least discomfort and disadvantage to themselves and others, and all along Dr. Sircar has zealously concerned himself with the physical, moral and social well-being of the young men of Calcutta, as well as with their intellectual improvement—in seeing to it that they were well-housed, in diminishing the temptations surrounding them, and in warning them against all such. In movements having these objects in view, Dr. Sircar has taken great interest and an active part, as occasions presented themselves. Dr. Sircar is also a public-spirited gentleman. His eminent position among educationists, his large-hearted labours of love and generous disposition towards the various communities of Calcutta, were publicly recognised by Government, by his being made a C. I. E. and High Sheriff of Calcutta, the duties of which office he discharged, as he discharged all the many public duties he undertook, with tact, conscientiousness and success.

The Vice-Chancellor expressed his concurrence with what had been said by the mover and seconder of the resolution, and referred to the eminent services rendered by Dr. Mahendralal Sircar to the cause of science and to the University.

The motion was then put to the meeting, and carried with acclamation.

154. Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyay moved, on behalf of the Syndicate, that to the foot-note marked (†) appended to the word "Botany" in the last sentence of paragraph 6 of the L. M. S. and M. B. Regulations (pages 48 and 53, Calendar, 1897), the following be added :—

"Candidates will not be expected to recognise microscopical specimens at the examination."

Father Lafont seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

155. Dr. Asutosh Mukhopadhyay moved, on behalf of the Syndicate, that the following be substituted for paragraphs 6 and 7 of the Regulations for the Examination for Honours in Law (pages 46 and 47, Calendar, 1897):—

1. Hindu Law or Mahomedan Law.
2. Jurisprudence and Principles of Legislation.
3. Roman Law.
4. Private International Law.
- 5 & 6. Together with any two of the following subjects, as administered in British India, to be chosen by the candidate, namely :—
 - (i) Principles of Equity.

 - (iii) The Law relating to Wills.
 - (iv) The Law of Contracts and Torts.

7. Six papers shall be set to each candidate, one on each of the six subjects.

There shall be a viva voce examination of each candidate, if the Examiners think fit."

Mr. A. F. M. Abdur Rahman seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

156. The Hon'ble Babu Kalicharan Banurji moved, on behalf of the Syndicate, that the words "and Rangoon" be inserted after the word "Calcutta" in the second line of paragraph 1 of the Regulations for the Examination for the Degree of Bachelor in Law (page 45, Calendar, 1897).

Father Lafont seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

157. The Hon'ble Babu Kalicharan Banurji moved, on behalf of the Syndicate, that K. Phelan be admitted to the next F. A. Examination as a teacher, without being required to pass the Entrance Examination, on the ground of his having passed the Matriculation Examination of the Royal University of Ireland in 1892.

Mr. Prothero seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

158. The Hon'ble Babu Kalicharan Banurji moved, on behalf of the Syndicate, that the words "or to proceed to Europe" be omitted from paragraph 2 of the Bye-laws relating to the Registrar (page 25, Calendar, 1897).

435. The Vice-Chancellor said that the next item of business was to receive the report of a Committee appointed to draw up a scheme for giving effect to a resolution of the Senate, regarding the appointment of a Revising Board of Examiners. It might be in their recollection that about a year ago a report was made to them by the Committee appointed by the Senate. That report ran as follows:—

1. That a Board of Consulting Examiners be annually appointed by the Syndicate, for such of the Examinations as the Syndicate may, from time to time, determine, consisting of the Vice-Chancellor, the Registrar, and not more than ten specialists in such branches of study as the Syndicate may think fit, residing, as far as possible, in or near Calcutta.

2. That the Board meet in the house of the Registrar, who shall lay before them all the papers set on the subjects, and for the examinations provided for above.

3. That in order to facilitate the work of the Board, the Examiners appointed to set questions be requested to frame, for each question set, an alternative question of equal value, the alternative questions being written on a separate sheet of paper, and the examiners appointed to set questions in Mathematics for any examination above the Entrance, be requested also to send to the Registrar a paper containing hints for the solution of any problems set by them.

4. That the whole work of the Board be done at one or more meetings of the Board."

This report was considered by the Senate in January last, and after considerable discussion it was resolved "that the report be referred back to the Committee, with instructions to state more in detail, the constitution and powers of the Board to alter or reject papers set by the Examiners, and to define their methods of procedure." Subsequently, the place of Mr. Pedler, the Previous Registrar, on the Committee, was taken by Mr. Gilliland, the Officiating Registrar. This Committee had submitted the following report on the 14th August last:—

"To

THE REGISTRAR, UNIVERSITY OF CALCUTTA.

SIR,

WITH reference to our Report relative to the appointment of a Revising Board of Examiners, remitted to us for re-submission by a Resolution of the Senate, dated the 30th January, 1897, we have the honour to observe as follows:—

We have reconsidered the whole subject in the light of the general sense of the Senate, that teachers disqualified from setting papers should be regarded as disqualified also from sitting on a Revising Board, and have arrived at the conclusion that the lines on which our original recommendations were framed must be abandoned.

We would now recommend that two persons be appointed to set each of such papers as, in the opinion of the Syndicate, it is desirable to 'moderate;' that it be their duty to set the paper allotted to them, in consultation with each other; that the paper be submitted to the Registrar with a certification over their joint signatures that it conforms to the prescribed conditions, and does not involve a variation of the average standard; and that a consultation fee be added to their usual remuneration.

We might point out that our present recommendations are on the lines of Rule 8 of the Rules for Examinations (p. 123, Calendar for 1897), slightly modified, so as to secure its effectual operation.

We have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servants,

(Sd.) KALICHHARAN BANURJI.

14th August, 1897.

„ F. LAFONT, S. J.

„ J. H. GILLILAND. ”

The Hon'ble Babu Kalicharan Banurji moved that the report of the Committee submitted on the 14th August last, be adopted. He said that the credit of bringing up this question of a Revising Board of Examiners belonged to Mr. Rowe, who some time ago brought up two propositions before the Senate. One of these propositions was that the practice of appointing Examiners solely from among gentlemen who do not teach the subject to be examined on, deprives the University of the services of those who are best fitted to set the papers, and is consequently prejudicial to the best interests of the University. The second proposition was that a Revising Board of Examiners be appointed. Mr. Rowe's first proposition was negatived by the Senate, but the second one was accepted. The Senate resolved that a Revising Board of Examiners should be appointed, and referred the matter to the Syndicate, who appointed a Committee to consider it. That Committee had the benefit of the advice of the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Gooroo Dass Banerjee and Mr. Rowe. The Committee arrived at certain conclusions which were embodied in the report that had already been placed before them, viz., the report of the 30th January last. They had also been told what the result of the discussion on that resolution was. In the report, it was not made clear whether gentlemen teaching particular subjects could be on the Revising Board or not, but he might tell them that the Committee thought that, unless such gentlemen were allowed to serve on the Revising Board, it would not be practicable to give effect to the Resolution of the Senate. When the matter came up before the Senate, it was perfectly clear that it was against the sense of the Senate to allow gentlemen to serve on the Revising Board who could not serve as Examiners, or present papers on certain subjects. When the Committee, altered as indicated by the Vice-Chancellor, considered the matter, they came to the conclusion that it was not practicable to give effect to the Resolution of the Senate on the lines on which their original recommendations were framed, and they accordingly submitted the report which he now asked them to adopt.

Babu Adharchandra Mukerjee seconded the motion. Mr. Rowe said :—

“ It is with a strong feeling of responsibility that I rise to propose the amendments which stand in my name, for I am convinced that upon their acceptance or otherwise depend the vital interests of this University. I hope that my hearers will bear with me while I endeavour, in as few words as will suffice to state the case fairly, to trace the history of the movement for appointing Moderators of the sort I advocate, whose duty shall be to revise the question papers before they are printed, and not Moderators who shall, as they do now, revise merely the results or marks given in by the Examiners. Any one who will be at the trouble to look back into the Minutes of the Syndicate, in order to follow the rise and development of this important question during the last 20 years or so, will find that, so long ago as the year 1879 (although the question was mooted before that date), Draft Rules for University Examinations were drawn up by Messrs. Tawney and Eliot, and based upon the opinions of the Heads of Affiliated Institutions (see pp. 55—57, Minutes, 1879-80). These Rules were adopted at a Syndicate Meeting, at which were present the Hon. H. T. Prinsep, A. E. Gough, Esq., the Rev. Jas. Robertson, and A. M. Bose, Esq. I will quote two of the Rules thus adopted : ‘ The duties of the Moderators shall be to scrutinize, in consultation with the Registrar, the papers of Examiners before they are printed or lithographed, and to revise, in consultation with the same officer, the list of passed candidates before they are published in the Gazette.’ This is Rule 4, and Rule 7 reads thus : ‘ The Moderators, in consultation with the Registrar, shall be empowered to omit or insert questions in examination papers, to alter the wording of questions, and to pass students who have failed in one subject only by the addition of grace marks.’ Thus nearly 20 years ago the principle of Revising Examiners, for which I have been so long contending, was adopted by a thoroughly representative Syndicate, the Draft Rules having been drawn up by two of the most distinguished, and, at the same time, most practical members of the great body of Teachers (Messrs. Tawney and Eliot) that have ever been on the staff of any of our Colleges, and drawn up only after giving full weight to the opinions of the Heads of Affiliated Institutions. Passing over the intervening six years, I find that, in August 1885 (I quote from the Minutes, 1885-86, pp. 50-51), 'The following gentlemen were appointed Moderators for the current year with power to call in the aid of experts who are Members of the Senate, whenever they think it necessary—Mr. Tawney, Pandit Mahesachandra Nyayaratna, C.I.E., Mr. Pedler, and Dr. Gurudas Banerjee.' Three of these gentlemen were engaged in teaching and were educationists by profession, and the fourth, a gentleman who thoroughly understood, and, I am happy to say, still understands, the student's needs, and who was for 3 years our honoured Vice-Chancellor.

"In the next year (1886), I read that 'Mr. F. J. Rowe, Head Examiner, at the recent Entrance Examination in English,' offered to suggest a few rules for the guidance of future Head Examiners and Examiners, based upon his experience of the working of the 'Head Examiner' Scheme. The order passed upon Mr. Rowe's letter to the Syndicate was 'That Mr. Rowe, the Rev. J. P. Ashton, and the Rev. J. Hector be asked to favour the Syndicate with their views regarding the failures at the last Entrance Examination, and to give them the result of their experience as Head Examiners.' I find no record in the Minutes that the views of these three gentlemen were ever placed before the Syndicate.

"Going on to the next year (1887), I find that, on July 29th of that year, certain rules were appointed for the guidance of Examiners at a Syndicate Meeting, at which were present the Hon'ble Dr. Mahendralal Sircar, C.I.E., in the Chair, A. Pedler, Esq., Dr. Gurudas Banerjee, Mahamahopadhyay Mahesachandra Nyayaratna, C.I.E., H. J. S. Cotton, Esq., C.S., the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Chandramadhub Ghose, Babu Mahesachandra Chaudhuri, and Col. C. W. J. Harrison, R.E.—surely a Syndicate fully representative of the highest interests and of the widest experience of this University. The first rule appointed by this Syndicate reads thus: 'That the Syndicate have appointed a Board of Examiners for the B. A. Examination of 1888 in the subjects noted below. Each member of the Board is called a Senior Examiner in his particular subject. The Registrar is ex-officio Secretary to the Board.' Then follows a list of the subjects, 12 in number. Rule 3 states 'the duties of the individual Senior Examiner in a subject when only one Examiner is appointed.' Among these duties are 'To moderate the F. A. and Entrance Examination Papers in consultation with the F. A. and Entrance Examiners appointed to set those papers,' and 'to see that the Examination Papers set . . . conform to the conditions laid down by the University . . . and that the standard of the questions set remains approximately uniform from year to year.' These rules were adopted and ordered to be published in the Calendar by a Syndicate Meeting of 5th July, 1889. On the 18th August, 1890, rules on the duties of Moderators were adopted by the Syndicate and ordered to be printed in the Calendar. These rules omit any mention of the duty of Moderators to revise the question papers, and seem to confine their functions to passing students by grace marks. Whether it was intended to cut off the power to revise question papers or not, or to add something to that power previously delegated to the Moderators, does not appear in the Minutes.

"I now pass on to an Annual Meeting of the Senate on the 23rd April, 1892. At this meeting Mr. Rowe, and subsequently Mr. Tawney, protested against the excessive difficulty of one of the Entrance Papers in English, which contained questions which Mr. Rowe said he could not answer himself, while Mr. Tawney had to read one of the questions through three times before he could understand it; he considered it was 'quite as difficult as any sentence in Thucydides.' Mr. Rowe suggested the appointment of a Permanent Board of Moderators, to whom the proposed questions should be submitted.

"At the Annual Meeting of the Senate on the 21st April, 1894, Mr. Rowe again called attention to the disastrous results of the then system of appointing Examiners, and showed that some of the papers in English, in which he was Examiner, contained questions to which, in his opinion, and in that of his Fellow-Examiner, marks had been assigned out of all proportion to the importance of the questions set. Mr. Rowe formally proposed that a small Committee be appointed to advise the Syndicate with regard to the appointment of a Permanent Board of Revising Examiners. The Vice-Chancellor, in ruling the motion out of order, admitted the importance of the question, and suggested that Mr. Rowe should withdraw his motion. Mr. Rowe consented to do so, provided that it was understood that the question was not to be buried. The Vice-Chancellor gave the assurance that if Mr. Rowe brought forward the matter formally, it would receive full consideration, upon which the motion was withdrawn.

"I will pass rapidly over the next few stages. On the 10th of August, 1895 (having been absent on furlough for a year), Mr. Rowe gave formal notice to the Syndicate that he proposed to lay before the Senate propositions regarding the appointment of a Board of Revising Examiners and the present practice of excluding teachers from setting papers. Order thereon by the Syndicate: 'To be deferred.' The same notice was again brought up before the Syndicate a month later. Order thereon—'To be deferred.'

"At a Meeting of the Senate held on the 18th January, 1896, Mr. Rowe brought his proposals before the Senate. The part of his motion relating to the appointment of a Board of Revising Examiners was carried, the other part was lost.

"On the 9th May, 1896, at a Meeting of the Syndicate, the letters of the Hon. Mr. Justice Gurudas Banerjee and Mr. F. J. Rowe containing suggestions regarding the practical carrying out of the above Resolution of the Senate were read. 'It was resolved by the Syndicate that the Senate be informed that the Syndicate have found it impossible up to the present, &c., &c., &c.'

"However, a Committee was then and there appointed to consider the subject, with instructions to report within three months. It was not until 7 months had elapsed that the Report of this Committee was received by the Syndicate, viz., on the 12th December, 1896. A month later, on the 30th January, 1897, nearly a year ago, certain resolutions relating to the appointment of a Revising Board were proposed by my friend, the Hon. Babu Kalicharan Banerji. The whole report was thereupon referred back to the Committee 'with instructions to state more in detail the constitution and powers of the Board to alter or reject papers set by the examiners, and to define their methods of procedure.' "

"Now, at last, we have before us this day the reconsidered Report of the Committee. Is not there not to be found in lengthy history a good illustration of 'How not to do it? What I now have the honour to propose is an amendment to the motion, that this reconsidered Report be received and adopted "

Mr. Rowe then proposed that, in place of the Resolution before the Meeting, the following amendments be adopted :--

(1.) That two persons be appointed to set each paper, power being reserved to the Syndicate to except from this rule papers such as those in the second language and in certain scientific subjects which they may think fit.

(2.) That the questions agreed upon by the above-mentioned question-framers be submitted in draught to a third person called "Moderator."

(3.) That Moderators be appointed by the Syndicate, on the recommendation of the several Boards of Studies, for a term of three years.

(4.) That a Moderator be appointed for each of the subjects in which separate Boards of Studies are constituted, or for any group of subjects to be fixed by the Syndicate.

(5.) That each Moderator be a specialist in the subject in which he is appointed Moderator, and that each be preferably one who has recently been engaged in teaching. No Moderator, however, shall be appointed who is, at the time of his appointment, engaged in teaching any subject or group of subjects in which he is appointed Moderator.

(6.) That a Moderator's duties be to revise, in consultation with question-framers, the draught questions, with a view to secure uniformity of standard of examination from year to year, and also conformity to the University Regulations regarding scope and difficulty of the questions set; and that all points of difference between question-framers themselves, or between question-framers and Moderator, be decided by a majority of votes of the three concerned

(7.) That (as in para. 1 of the original recommendations of the Committee) the Moderators, together with the Vice-Chancellor and the Registrar, constitute a Board of Revising Examiners, and either that they be residents in Calcutta, or that they undertake, on the requisition of the Registrar, to come down to Calcutta for meetings of the Board.

(8.) That Moderators be suitably remunerated, by a fixed yearly sum, or by a sum not less than that paid to the framers of each question paper which the Moderator revises.

Mr. Rowe concluded by expressing a hope that the subject might be discussed in a calm and unprejudiced spirit. Being within measurable distance of his retirement from the Education Service and from India, he could have no personal end to gain in opening up this question, especially at a time when twelve hours' work out of each twenty-four hours seemed hardly to suffice for the daily duties that had to be done. He besought the Members of the Senate to raise this important matter out of the stormy region of party-feeling and unworthy jealousy in which it had lived and moved. Let them for once lift their hearts and minds into the purer and serener air of academic argument. If he succeeded in persuading the Senate to set this weary question at rest, in the only way in which, as he thought, it could be set at rest, namely, by getting rid of the evil in the system, he should feel satisfied that he had, in his 30 years' work in Bengal, done at least one good service to candidates at their examinations and to the University of Calcutta.

Rai Lalmadhab Mukerjee, Bahadur, seconded the amendments.

Rev. A. P. Begg supported the motion, and would even go further, and have meetings of the Examiners for Entrance and for F. A. He could remember one Entrance Examination in which, although none of the papers was particularly hard, the general difficulty of the examination was such as to cause the failure of a large number. Such would have been impossible if the Examiners had met beforehand.

Rev. H. Whitehead supported the amendments, and proposed, as a further amendment, that the concluding para. of No. 5 of Mr. Rowe's should read "that each Moderator shall be engaged in teaching the subject which he moderates."

Dr. A. F. R. Hoernle, C. I. E., seconded the amendment, which was opposed by the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Gooroo Dass Banerjee.

Maulavi Shams-ul-Huda opposed the motion and the amendments, as being unnecessary and extravagant, while the Rev. J. P. Ashton supported the motion, as being a step in the right direction.

The Hon'ble Babu Kalicharan Banurji, having, in the meantime, consulted with the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Gooroo Dass Banerjee, said that he had amended the second paragraph of the report of the 14th August last, so as to include the substance of Mr. Rowe's amendments, and it now read thus :—

"We would now recommend that three persons be appointed a Board of Examiners to set each of such papers, as in the opinion of the Syndicate, it is desirable to moderate; that it be the duty of two of them to set the paper allotted to them, in consultation with each other at a meeting; that it be the duty of the third, who shall be appointed by the Syndicate, on the recommendation of the Board of Studies concerned, and shall be designated "Moderator," to revise, in consultation with the other Members of the Board at a meeting, the paper set, all points of difference being decided by a majority of votes; that the papers thus set and revised be submitted to the Registrar, with a certification over their joint signatures that it conforms to the prescribed conditions, and does not involve a variation of the average standard; that a consultation fee be paid to each of the Members of the Board who set the paper, in addition to the fee for setting the paper; and that a fee, to be fixed by the Syndicate, be paid to the Moderator for revising the paper."

Mr. Rowe and the Rev. H. Whitehead accepted the amended motion of the Hon'ble Babu Kalicharan Banurji, and withdrew their amendments.

The amended motion was then put and carried unanimously.

The Vice-Chancellor thanked those gentlemen who had been instrumental in bringing this controversy of about twenty years' standing to a close.

J. H. GILLILAND,
Registrar.

493. The Senate was convened for the purpose of conferring the Honorary and Ordinary Degrees of the year.

The Vice-Chancellor having declared the Convocation opened, presented Babu Mahendralal Sircar, C.I.E., M.D., to His Excellency the Chancellor in the following words :—

"I beg to present to your Excellency, Babu Mahendralal Sircar, C.I.E., M.D. In consequence of his eminent position and attainments, he has been recommended by the Syndicate and Senate of this University and by myself for the Degree of Doctor in the Faculty of Law, and that recommendation has been confirmed by your Excellency. I pray that you will confer upon him the Degree of Doctor in the Faculty of Law."

His Excellency the Chancellor then conferred upon Babu Mahendralal Sircar, C. I. E., M.D., the Honorary Degree of Doctor in the Faculty of Law in the following form :—

"By virtue of the authority vested in me as Chancellor of this University, I admit you, Dr. Mahendralal Sircar, to the Honorary Degree of Doctor in the Faculty of Law of this University."

Dr. Mahendralal Sircar then, having signed the register, resumed his seat.

The candidates for Ordinary Degrees were then presented to the Vice-Chancellor, and admitted to their respective degrees in the usual manner.

His Excellency the Chancellor then addressed the Convocation as follows:—

“Mr. Vice-Chancellor, ladies and gentlemen,—My first and principal duty this afternoon is to congratulate those on whom the University has just conferred its degrees. I am afraid I must now rank among those who look back to their University-days through a lengthening vista of years. But I can assure you that you have my active sympathy in the perils which so many of you have just surmounted. Memory still recalls the dread ordeal of the past and the anxiously awaited approach of the Honours Examination, and I think in after life, one cannot altogether forget the awe-inspiring presence of the Examiner, the sigh of relief with which the interview with him terminated, and the manner in which the judgment we formed of him varied considerably, as his judgment of our capabilities was in accordance with or differed from our own. But I think there is one respect in which we who look back can appreciate better than you who are in the thick of it. I think, perhaps, we appreciate more even than you can do the difficulties of an examination, and the extreme value of the importance of that period of his life which a young man spends at the University. It is then that the book of life is unfolded before him, before he is called upon in a respect to undertake its responsibilities. I can make no better remark to those young men and young ladies on whom the University has to-day conferred their degrees, than that they have made good use of these opportunities, and that they recognise that the honours conferred upon them carries with it a corresponding obligation. The degree of the University which you have gained is a badge that the honour of the University is entrusted to your hands, and I can assure you that it is no empty form in which we adjure you that in your life and conversation you should show yourselves worthy of the same. Mr. Vice-Chancellor, I should like to offer my personal congratulations to two gentlemen on whom the University has conferred its degree. Last year I had the pleasure to admit to the degree of Honorary Doctor of Law, Sir Alfred Croft, in recognition of the eminent services to education which he had rendered. It was a great pleasure to me when I found that the gentleman who was designated for a similar distinction this year, was a gentleman of Bengal. I think that the University has chosen a very appropriate occasion for conferring on Dr. Mahendralal Sircar, the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Law, in recognition of his eminent services in the cause of Scientific enquiry. As you are aware, India had just been visited by a large number of gentlemen of high distinction in science, whom, I am sure, the University would have been proud to welcome here to-day, had that been possible. It is a coincidence that in talking to one of the most distinguished of them, Sir Norman Lockyer

the other day, he pointed out to me the very great advantage which obtained in India for an observer of astronomical science. It has occurred to me since that the events of the past year may show that there are other matters for scientific enquiry of which in India we are peculiarly ignorant. Certainly during last year we have been able to observe convulsions of nature on a scale which is almost without parallel. And we know that millions of our fellow-subjects have been suffering from privation from causes of which, we may say, the investigator has yet much to investigate and determine. I congratulate, therefore, the University, as well as Dr. Mahendralal Sircar, on the occasion which has been selected for conferring upon him the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Law. And, Mr. Vice-Chancellor, I should not like to pass by without also a word of personal congratulation to one other gentleman, Mr. Saratchandra Banerjee, who has won for himself in the arduous examination which, I believe, precedes that degree—the Degree of Doctor of Law. And, if I may venture to do so, I should like to include in that congratulation his distinguished father. I am sure it will be gratifying to every member of the University that the son of a former Vice-Chancellor has shown himself thus capable of following in the footsteps of his father, and we all wish for him an equally honourable and distinguished career. Ladies and gentlemen, my duty now is to call upon the Vice-Chancellor to address you. I have reason to believe that he will be able to point to a peaceful and prosperous year for the University. And I am sure you will all admit, if that is so, there is no one to whom credit is more justly due than to the Vice-Chancellor himself. Mr. Justice Trevelyan is about to seek that rest which his long and arduous services in India justly entitle him to. I know that I can, in your name, assure him that he will carry from none of his friends more sincere good wishes for his health and prosperity than from the members of this University. And, gentlemen, I have now for myself also to say a word of farewell. I have now reached the period, which must come to every one who holds my office, when he begins to do things for the last time. I have always thought it was a particular coincidence that the first Public Meeting I attended in India was the Convocation of the Calcutta University, and it is natural, therefore, that this Meeting of the Convocation of the Calcutta University should be the first on which this idea is present to my mind. I have only to thank the members of this University for the kindness with which they ever received me. I feel, I must confess, I have little to show in the way of return for all that kindness. But this, at any rate, I can ask you to believe, that whether here or far away, I shall ever retain the warmest interest in all that will lead to the prosperity and welfare of the University of Calcutta, of which I have had the honour to be Chancellor.”

The Vice-Chancellor then addressed the Convocation as follows :—

“Your Excellency, Members of the Senate, Ladies and Gentlemen,—It is usual for the Vice-Chancellor in his address to the Convocation to refer to the losses which the Senate has sustained by death or retirement during the year. Since we met at last year's Convocation death has claimed three of our number : Mr. Franklin Prestage, Babu Durga Mohun Dass, and Babu Taraprosono Roy, Rai Bahadur. We have lost five by retirement.

Mr. Prestage had been a member of our Senate for fifteen years, but his absence from Calcutta prevented him from taking part in our deliberations. He was an active pioneer of railway enterprise in this country. Babu Durga Mohan Dass was a leading Vakil of the High Court, and for many years enjoyed an extensive practice. Speaking not only as Vice-Chancellor of this University, but also as a Judge of the High Court of this Province, I can testify to the respect which all who were associated with him entertained towards him, and to the trust which the Bench and his fellow-practitioners alike confided in him. Babu Taraprosono Roy, for some years before his death, held the important office of Assistant Chemical Examiner to Government. Upon his skill and upon the accuracy of his investigations issues of liberty and even of life frequently depended. I think I am justified in saying that his opinions were always given with the greatest care, and that they were always received with the utmost reliance by those whose duty it was to consider them.

Of those who have retired during the past year, our late Vice-Chancellor, Sir Alfred Croft, deserves more than passing mention. His services to education in Bengal are well known to all of you. Let me remind you of the terms of the Government Notification which was issued on his retirement: "Sir Alfred Croft's connection with the Education Department of Bengal has extended over a period of more than thirty-one years, and for nearly twenty years he has been employed as Director of Public Instruction. The advance of education in Bengal during his tenure of office has been great, and has been largely due to his fostering care. His powers of organization have been continuously brought to bear upon every branch of this great Department, which will long bear the impress of his mind and will. By his retirement the Government of Bengal loses a most accomplished, able and devoted public servant, and the natives of Bengal a true and judicious friend."

The members of this University are, I am sure, fully prepared to endorse every word of this Notification.

From 1872 Sir Alfred Croft was a member of our Senate. He officiated as Registrar in 1876. He was President of the Faculty of Arts in 1878, 1882 and 1886, and was our Vice Chancellor for three successive years. This is indeed a record of pre-eminently valuable work done for this University. To show, to some extent, our appreciation of the debt owing to him, we have conferred upon him the only honorary degree which it is in our power to bestow. I trust that he will receive the reward which he himself would prefer, namely, the regard and affection of those for whom he laboured so long and so well.

Sir Alfred Lethbridge had been a Fellow of this University since 1879. He has now retired after a long and distinguished public career in this country. As Inspector-General of Jails, he did much to ameliorate the condition of the prisoners, and the beneficial reforms which he introduced considerably diminished the mortality in Jails in Bengal.

Mr. Justice Beverley's retirement has been deeply regretted by all with whom he was brought in contact.

Mr. Ewbank was, at the time of his retirement, Principal of the Patna College. He had for many years done important educational work in Bengal, both as a Mathematician and as a teacher of Physical Science. Behar especially is indebted to him. In spite of many difficulties he succeeded in establishing a Technical School, the want of which had been long felt.

Sir George King has recently sent in his resignation of the office of Fellow of this University. He was at one time President of the Faculty of Medicine, and has been a Fellow for over five and twenty years. His reputation as a botanist is world-wide. His work in India has placed him high in the foremost rank of the botanists of the age. It is impossible for me, in the short time at my disposal, to attempt to do justice to that work. I need only refer to that portion of his labours, which has conferred the greatest benefits upon the people. He so organized the cultivation of Cinchona as to enable the Government of Bengal to place, within the reach of the poorest peasant, the valuable remedies against malaria which Cinchona yields.

This concludes the list of our losses by death and retirement. I have a few words to say as to the work done by us during the year. His Excellency the Chancellor, when he addressed us last year, exhorted us to pursue a policy of advance. Although, perhaps, we cannot claim to have initiated any remarkable measure of progress or reform, the record of the work which we have done, both in the Senate and in the Syndicate, shows that we are awake to the necessity of maintaining the high position at which this University has arrived. Last month we passed rules, the effect of which will be to secure greater uniformity in our examinations, and to remove defects which have been for a long time apparent, but for which until now no practical remedy has been contrived. The proper moderation of examination papers is now provided for and the chance of errors in the questions is reduced to a minimum. Considering the large number of papers which have to be set in every year, it is a matter of congratulation that fault has so rarely been found with them. The simple rules which have now been framed will, I have no doubt, work well in practice. I desire on behalf of this University to express our gratitude to those gentlemen who were instrumental in bringing about so desirable a result.

Before leaving the subject of examinations, I should like to refer to a controversy, which I hope is now finally set at rest. In 1890 a Committee of the Syndicate reported that the lesson to be drawn from certain events, which were then recent, and had occasioned the appointment of the Committee, seemed to them to be that thenceforth no gentleman should be appointed to set an examination paper on a subject of which he teaches the whole or a part. The Committee which made that report was composed of Mr. Justice Gooroodass Banerjee, Sir Alfred Croft, Mr. A. M. Bose and Mr. Tawney. The names of those gentlemen sufficiently guarantee the wisdom of the recommendation which they made. Their report was then adopted by the Syndicate, and this particular recommendation was at a subsequent date discussed by the Senate and affirmed.

Having regard to this recommendation and to the authority of those who made it, there should not, except perhaps in the case of the most urgent necessity, be any departure from the principle that a gentleman should not be appointed to set papers for the examination of those whom he is teaching, or is likely to teach in the same subject. Even in the event of such necessity, the Senate will, I have no doubt, hesitate before they will be induced to admit any exception to this rule.

It is necessary for me to refer to an event of some importance to this University, namely, the endowment of a chair of Vedantic Philosophy by the munificence of Babu Sri Gopal Bose Mullick. That gentleman has bound himself to give an annual sum of Rs. 5,000 for a period of five years to provide for the salary of the professor and for other expenses connected with the lectures. We are fortunate in having been able to secure the services of the eminent Pandit Mahamahopadhyay Chandrakanta Tarkalankar as the first incumbent of this new professorship. The Pandit delivers his lectures in Bengali, but before long you will probably see what I consider to be a remarkable use of English education, namely, Hindu Philosophy being taught to Hindu students, by the choice of the teacher, through the medium of the English language.

Although, to some extent, the institution of this professorship is an innovation, it is consistent with the strict religious neutrality to which we are bound. Hindu Philosophy, although its principles are claimed to be derived from the gods, can be treated apart from the tenets of the Hindu religion, in the same way as the teaching of European Philosophy is unconnected with the teaching of Christianity.

The teaching of Hindu Philosophy is not in any way out of keeping with the system of education to which we are committed. In the memorable despatch of the Court of Directors which ordained the institution of the Indian Universities, we find the following :—

“We are not unaware of the success of many distinguished Oriental scholars in their praiseworthy endeavours to ingraft upon portions of Hindu Philosophy, the germs of sounder morals and of more advanced science, and we are far from underrating the good effect which has thus been produced upon the learned classes of India, who paid hereditary veneration to those ancient languages, and whose assistance in the spread of education is so valuable, from the honourable and influential position which they occupy among their fellow-countrymen. But such attempts, although they may usefully co-operate, can only be considered as auxiliaries, and would be a very inadequate foundation for any general scheme of Indian education.”

Now that 40 more years have passed, and that English education has taken firm root in this country, we may well expect that from no quarter will exception be taken to the teaching of Hindu philosophy, and that that teaching will not be behind the general advance of education.

The endowment of this professorship recalls to us the princely bequest made to this University by Babu Prosono Coomarr Tagore, and the gift of two lakhs of rupees made in 1866 by Mr. Premchand Roychand for the endowment of studentships. In these days of distress, when famine and earthquake have so severely tried the generosity of men of wealth, it is impossible for us to expect any great access of fortune. Let us hope that, in times of greater prosperity, the needs of this University will be recognized, and that professorships and scholarships, especially in aid of scientific research, will be amply endowed. There is also much to be done for institutions connected with the University. The University Institute, which is doing most valuable work amongst the students by giving them wholesome recreation and instruction in their leisure hours, is, like many other institutions, much in need of funds for its proper development.

The Convocation this year and that of last year differ from their predecessors, in that we have been exercising our powers of conferring honorary degrees. I should like to take this opportunity of expressing my opinion with regard to the exercise of those powers.

For many years after the establishment of this University, it had no power to grant honorary degrees of any kind. It could in no case confer a degree except after a prescribed examination.

In consequence of a desire to associate the name of the heir to the throne with this University on his visit to Calcutta, an Act was passed in 1875 giving to the Syndicate, with the previous consent of the Chancellor, power to confer any academical degree on any person without requiring him to undergo any examination for such degree. Provided that the Vice-Chancellor and not less than four other Members of the Syndicate should certify that such person was, by reason of eminent position and attainments, a fit and proper person to receive such degree.

Acting on the power thus conferred upon them, the Syndicate in 1876 granted the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws to H. R. II, the Prince of Wales, Professor Monier Williams, the Rev. Krishna Mohun Banerjee and Babu Rajendra Lal Mitter.

In 1884 the law was altered, and as the law at present stands, the only honorary degree which can be conferred by this University is that of Doctor in the Faculty of Law. A slight change was also then made in the conditions of the appointment.

From 1876 until the beginning of last year this law was a dead letter, although there were many persons, both here and elsewhere, who were not only qualified by position and attainments to be admitted to honorary degrees, but whose names on the list of our graduates would have conferred eminent honour on our University. I am not aware why, for so long a period, no honorary degrees were conferred. I can only suppose that the omission was due to a worthy desire to enhance the value of the degree.

In my opinion this power was given to us for use and, when it should happen that there be a person qualified in terms of the Act for the degree, and he be one whom we would wish to honour, we need have no scruple in exercising our power. To have omitted to recognize to the utmost of our capacity the services of Sir Alfred Croft, to which I have already referred, would have been far from creditable to us. The degree which has been conferred to-day upon Dr. Mohendro Lall Sirkar was unquestionably his due. The help which he has given to the promotion and better knowledge of science in Bengal by the foundation and maintenance of the Indian Association for the cultivation of Science of itself deserved this recognition. In conferring this degree upon him, we are not merely honouring his labours in the cause of science, we are also endeavouring to repay to some extent the debt which we owe to him. For many years, in spite of the many calls of his professional work, he devoted much of his time to our service. For ten successive years he was a member of our Syndicate, and frequently acted as its President during the absence of the Vice-Chancellor. He was also for four successive years President of the Faculty of Arts.

From time to time, in their addresses to the Convocation, the Vice-Chancellors of this University have described the progress of English education in this country and its effect upon the people. I can only speak with any pretence of authority as to its operation upon the administration of the law in Bengal. It is beyond question that the introduction of the traditions of British justice through the medium of English education has increased the confidence of the people in the decisions of the Courts. The marked improvement in the attainment of the subordinate judiciary, and, what is equally important, of the bar practising in the Courts, has been in a great measure due to the work done in our Colleges and in our University. The Vakil bar of the High Court is entirely recruited from the ranks of our graduates, and, in all the important districts, a large number of the practitioners are also graduates of the University. Moreover no one is admitted to the examination for pleaders in Mofussil Courts unless he has passed the First Arts Examination or an equivalent examination. This, to some extent, ensures that practitioners should have received a competent education, but now that the supply of Bachelor at Law is so large, the authorities might well consider whether the time has not arrived to further improve the qualifications of mofussil pleaders.

If only Bachelors of Law were admitted as pleaders in Mofussil Courts, the standard of the bar would be higher, both in general education and in legal knowledge, and a distinct advantage would be gained by the public. I think we can safely guarantee the supply. At the last examination, out of 490 candidates who applied to be examined, 453 attended throughout the examination, and 251 passed. These numbers are much higher than at any previous examination; and they show that the profession of the law in this Province was never more popular than it is at present. A danger, however, may arise from this great popularity; namely, that competition will compel those who are in want to break the rules of their profession, and to be a hindrance rather than an aid to the administration of justice. By raising the standard of the qualifications, the excess of the supply over the demand would be prevented, and any danger of the province being overrun by ignorant and necessitous lawyers would be averted.

There is, as I have said before, little of note to which I need refer. I will detain you but a short time longer while I follow our usual custom, and address a few words of counsel to those young men who have just completed their course of University education, and also to those who still remain in our colleges.

Young men, I wish to impress upon you to-day the importance of realizing the responsibilities which you take upon yourselves at the commencement of your College career, and also on taking your degrees. While in College you must remember that each one of you not only owes a duty to himself, he owes a duty to his fellow-student, a duty to his College, and a duty to the University.

For your own sake you must put all your force into your work. You must make the most of the opportunities which a College career affords to you. You will never enjoy similar opportunities of improvement and education, in after-life. If you neglect those which are now afforded to you, you may long and bitterly regret the loss of them. You must now do all that in you lies to render yourselves useful and honorable members of society.

To your fellows you owe much. The golden rule "Do unto others as you would they should do unto you" will solve every problem of your relation with your fellows. Before judging them and their actions, you should for a moment put yourselves in their place, and strive to realize how you yourselves would have acted under similar circumstances. Only if you can fully satisfy yourselves that you yourselves under similar circumstances would have acted differently, are you entitled even to criticise them. The capacity of sympathy is indispensable to judgment. Complete sympathy is as necessary to the proper performance of your duty to your fellows as it is in other relations of life. You have further the duty of furnishing a pattern to those who are junior to you. The example of his senior will often furnish a reason or an excuse to a junior in his choice between good and evil. By a word in season you may be able to turn the career of one of your fellows into a better path, and thus completely alter the character of his life.

To your teachers you owe a duty of obedience and respect, and to your College one of gratitude for the advantages of education which it has placed within your reach.

You also owe the duty of maintaining the good name of your College and of the University. This is an obligation which must remain with you continually in after life. As the work of each one of you be for good or for evil, to that extent will the good name of the University prosper or suffer. It will share in your triumphs and in your reverses alike. It is for you alone to ensure the certainty that it will never regret having sheltered you. If, without thought of favour or reward, your duty be the only star that guides you, it is certain that your lives will be the happier, and that, when you lay aside the work which has fallen to your lot, you will be able to review the past with content.

In the name of this University, I wish God-speed to each one of you who are leaving us.

The Vice-Chancellor then declared the Convocation closed.

Ray, on the position of Science in the Scheme of the University Education in Bengal and certain other papers relating to the subject.

Also the following Resolution passed by the Faculty of Arts on the Report of the Committee:—

"The Faculty resolve to remit the report of the Committee, the Memorandum from Mr. A. Pedler, F.R.S., and Dr. P. K. Ray, and Mr. Griesbach's proposals as embodied in Mr. Pedler's Scheme, to the Syndicate, with a request that the Syndicate may refer the whole matter to the Senate with such observations as to the Syndicate may seem fit."

Also the following letter from Dr. P. K. Ray and Mr. A. Pedler, F.R.S., submitting an amended scheme for the institution of Degrees in Science.

FROM

P. K. RAY, ESQ., D. SC. (LOND.),

TO

J. H. GILLILAND, ESQ., M. A.,
Registrar, Calcutta University.

SIR,

WITH reference to the question of instituting Degrees in Science, referred by the Faculty of Arts at its last meeting to the Syndicate, with a request to lay the whole matter before the Senate with such remarks as they like to make, I have the honour to submit the following scheme and to request that it may be laid before the Senate as an amendment, with such remarks as the Syndicate like to make :—

B. SC.

1. Any B. A. of the University to be allowed to compete.
2. Subjects of examination —

(1) Physics	}	Compulsory.
(2) Chemistry

With any two of the following :—

- (3) Biological Science, including Botany, Zoology and Physiology.
- (4) Geological Science, including Physical Geography, Geology, Geodesy, Drawing (Geometrical, both plane and solid).
- (5) Mental and Moral Science
- (6) Mathematics.
3. A candidate shall be excused from being examined in a subject if he has obtained Honours in that subject at the B. A. Examination.
4. The standard in each subject to be the same as the Honour standard of the same at the B. A. Examination.
5. At least one year to elapse between the B. A. and the B. Sc. Examination.

D. SC.

6. At least two years to elapse between B. Sc. and D. Sc. Examinations.
7. Candidates for D. Sc. to be tested by Thesis (embodying original research, &c.), Practical work and by Examination, written, oral or both (at the option of the examiners) in any one of the following subjects :—
 - (1) Pure Mathematics.
 - (2) Mixed Mathematics.
 - (3) Heat, Electricity and Magnetism.
 - (4) Light and Sound.
 - (5) Inorganic Chemistry.
 - (6) Organic Chemistry.
 - (7) Botany, including Morphology, Physiology and Systematic Botany.
 - (8) Zoology, including Comparative Anatomy, Physiology and Systematic Zoology.
 - (9) Geology including Stratigraphical Geology, Palaeontology and Petrology.
 - (10) Mental, Moral and Social Science.

It will be noticed that this scheme includes Mr. Pedler's plan embodying the proposals contained in Mr. Griesbach's letter to the Director of Public Instruction (see Current Minutes, pp. 139—146). It will enable a student not only to study Geology (as provided for in Mr. Pedler's plan), but also Physics, Chemistry, Botany and other sciences, on a sound basis of a thorough scientific training; and it proposes to institute the Degrees of B. Sc. and D. Sc. not only in Geology (as proposed in Mr. Pedler's plan), but also in other sciences. It thus meets an objection which might be raised against Mr. Pedler's plan, that it is partial, as it institutes the Degrees of B. Sc. and D. Sc. only in Geology and overlooks the claims of the other sciences.

I am of opinion that the higher Degree of D. Sc. should be founded on a degree of B. Sc., laying the sound basis of a scientific training in the sciences of Physics and Chemistry. I am, therefore, unable to approve of the recommendations contained in the report submitted by certain members of the Committee appointed by the Faculty of Arts in August, 1894, to consider and report on the Memorandum by Mr. Pedler and Dr. P. K. Ray (see Current Minutes, pp. 136—139).

If it is thought desirable to encourage candidates for the Premchand Roychand Studentship Examination by connecting it with a University Degree, I would suggest that a degree of Doctor in Arts might be instituted for the purpose. This Degree might be awarded on the same conditions on which two separate Degrees of "Doctor in Science" and "Doctor in Literature" are recommended in the report referred to above (see Current Minutes, pp. 137—138).

Lastly, I am strongly of opinion that it is high time that the University should give its graduates in Science such a thorough and practical training as would qualify them for employment in the Scientific Industries of the country as well as in the Scientific Departments of Government such as Geological, Telegraphical, Agricultural, &c. If the University and Government co-operate in this way they will be able to create a class of scientific men as they have created a class of Lawyers, a class of Judicial Officers (Moonsiffs), a class of Executive Officers (Deputy Magistrates), a class of Medical men (Assistant Surgeons), &c.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient Servant,

PRESIDENCY COLLEGE :
18th March, 1898.

P. K. RAY, D. SC. (LOND).

"As I am entirely opposed to the adoption of the Report of the Science Degrees Committee as it stands, for the very obvious reason that the scheme makes no provision for requiring a general knowledge of Science as the foundation of the special knowledge in any one Science required for a Doctor's Degree in it, I have much pleasure in signing and supporting Dr. P. K. Ray's amendment which he proposes to bring forward at the meeting of the Senate, on April 16th, 1898.

(Sd.) ALEX. PEDLER, F.R.S.,
Member of the Senate."

Also the following Note by the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Gooroo Dass Banerjee on the proposed scheme for the institution of Science Degrees :—

1. The main objects of the Science Degrees scheme, as indicated in the Memorandum of Mr. Pedler and Dr. Ray, are—

I.—The removal of certain defects in the B. A. Regulations, consisting chiefly in their making Mathematics a compulsory subject in the B. or Science Course, when it is not necessary for the study of the majority of subjects in that course, namely, Physiology, Botany, Zoology, Geology, and Mineralogy, and when, on the other hand, Physics and Chemistry are necessary for the study of those subjects.

II.—The encouragement of the study of Science by the institution of the degrees of B. Sc. and M. Sc. ; and III.—The encouragement of original scientific research by the institution of a still higher degree, D. Sc.

2. So far as objects I and III are concerned, there is a general unanimity of opinion in their favour. But in regard to object II, and the mode in which object I is sought to be carried out, opinion seems to be very much divided.

3. The scheme propounded in the Memorandum of Mr. Pedler and Dr. Ray, which makes the subjects for the B. A. and B. Sc. degrees partly the same and only partly different, and makes the award of the M. A. or the M. Sc. degree follow the result of the same examination according as the candidate is a B. A. or a B. Sc., has been considered unacceptable by the majority of the Committee, on the ground of its being needlessly complicated and involving the calling of the same thing by different names.

4. In lieu of this scheme, the Committee has provisionally adopted another, based on the principle that the subjects for the M.A. and M.Sc. Degree Examinations should be wholly different, and those for the B.A. and B.Sc. also different, with only a partial exception as regards English. But here, again, a difficulty arose as to whether certain subjects, namely, Mathematics and Mental and Moral Science, should be treated as Arts subjects or as Science subjects. This difficulty is due to the absence of a clear line of demarcation between the academic signification of Arts and that of Science ; and the only solution proposed is that embodied in the tabular statement of the scheme, which treats Mathematics and Mental Science indifferently as Arts or Science subjects and Moral Science exclusively as an Arts subject for the Bachelor's degree, whilst it regards all these three subjects only as Science subjects for the Master's degree ; and as a natural sequence of this it leaves the M.A. or the M. Sc. degree open to a B.A. or a B. Sc. without restriction.

5. This second scheme, though better workable no doubt than the one it replaces, is open to objection both theoretically as well as practical. It is objectionable theoretically because—

(a) it is wanting in consistency, some of the subjects, namely, Logic, Psychology, and Mathematics, being treated indifferently as Arts or Science subjects, and Ethics and Natural Theology exclusively as Arts subjects in the examinations for the Bachelor's degree, while all these subjects are classed under Science subjects for the Master's degree ; •

- (b) it is wanting in co-ordination in the successive degrees, the B. A. and the B. Sc. leading indifferently up to the M.A. or the M.Sc., and the last two probably leading up to not D.A. (Doctor of Arts, which from its novelty is considered unacceptable) and D.Sc., but to D. Lit., and D.Sc.

It is objectionable practically because—

- (a) it involves the needless institution of two new degrees, the B.Sc. and M.Sc., with such addition to the labour and expense in the conduct of examinations as is inseparable from it, when the new degrees are not distinguished from the B.A. and M.A. by any clear and well-marked demarcation continuous with any line dividing Science from Arts in the academic sense of the term, and when the term Arts in this sense is generally taken to comprehend both Literature and Science.
- (b) it removes the salutary distinction between Pass and Honours Courses in the examination for the Bachelor's degree, and thereby it does away with a powerful stimulus to exertion on the part of intelligent and laborious students ; while it imposes a heavy burden on average students by fixing, as it must do, the standard at some point between the present Pass and Honours standards ; and
- (c) it involves the necessity of changing not only the Regulations for our examinations, but also the Bye-Laws relating to our constitution, the Faculty known as the Faculty of Arts being no longer capable of being consistently designated by that name, when the degrees corresponding to it are contradistinguished from each other as degrees in Arts and those in Science.

6. Having regard to these difficulties, I beg to lay before the Committee the following scheme, which I shortly indicated at our first meeting, and which will, I venture to think, secure the main objects we have in view, without being open to objection to the same extent as the other two schemes.

Scheme submitted to the Science Degrees Committee for consideration :—

- I Entrance Examination—As at present.
- II. F. A. Examination—As at present.
- III. B. A. Examination—

A. COURSE.

Or the Course in subjects dealing chiefly with Mental, Moral or Social Phenomena—As at present.

B. COURSE.

Or the Course in subjects dealing chiefly with Material Phenomena.

1. English.
2. Physics and Chemistry.
And one of the following :
3. Mathematics.
4. Physiology, and either Botany or Zoology.

5. Geology, and either Mineralogy or Physical Geography.

The Distinction between Pass and Honours Courses and the definition of subjects remaining as at present.

To secure depth at the expense of surface and to give the students more time to think and observe, no one should be allowed to take up the Honour Course in more than one subject

IV M. A. Examination—As at present.

V D. Lit. Examination.
Open to any M. A. in one of the languages.

D. Sc., Examination.

Open to any M. A. in a subject other than a language.

The examination to be held with a view to test the capacity of the candidate for original work, and to consist in the submission by him of original Papers or Discourses or other original contributions by him to Literature or Science.

7. This scheme, it will be observed, is well calculated to secure objects I and III referred to in para. 1; it is not open to the objections referred to in paras. 3 and 5; and it involves the least possible amount of change in the existing Regulations.

While all the examinations up to that for the Master's degree continue to be called examinations in Arts in the ordinary academic sense of the term, as including Literature and Science, it is only in the highest examination, namely, that for the Doctor's degree, that the distinction between Literature and Science is brought into prominence. History, including Political Economy and Political Philosophy, is, as it ought to be, treated as a Science subject.

8 If it is deemed advisable to have an examination for the Doctor's degree in addition to the production of a thesis or other original work, the Premchand Roychand Examination may be utilized for the purpose. If this is done, then in addition to the single prize now competed for only by a very limited number of candidates, there will be other prizes in the shape of the Doctor's degree, which, being attainable by all who can show sufficient proficiency, notwithstanding that they may fail to obtain the pecuniary prize, will be sure to attract a large number of competent candidates.

Jubilee Address.

substantially mark its sense of loyalty at the then approaching celebration by Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of the 60th year of her reign. The suggestion was accepted by the Syndicate, who recommended to the Senate that an address, enclosed in a suitable casket, be presented to Her Majesty. The resolution of the Syndicate was placed before the Senate at their meeting held on the 24th April, 1897, and was carried by acclamation. The Vice-Chancellor, in putting the resolution to the meeting, said :—" I do not think it necessary to say very much on a subject which is in the heart of every one. All of us are anxious to honour the gracious Lady who reigns over us. This University is younger, it is true, than Her Majesty's reign, but it has taken an active share in the remarkable progress which has been made in education in India during that reign." A Committee of seven Members of the Senate was then appointed to draw up the address and to make arrangements for the preparation of a casket. The draft address submitted by the Committee was approved by the Senate in circulation : it was then printed on an illuminated parchment, and was signed by a large number of members of the Senate. A deputation of the Senate presented the address enclosed in the casket to His Excellency the Viceroy at Simla, and His Excellency thanked the University on behalf of Her Majesty for the address.

The following is the text of the address :—

'To

HER MOST GRACIOUS MAJESTY THE QUEEN-EMPRESS OF INDIA.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY,

WE, the Senate of the University of Calcutta, venture to approach Your Majesty with our humble and loyal congratulations on the completion of the Sixtieth Year of Your Majesty's reign.

Among the many blessings to the people of India, which have characterised Your Majesty's gracious rule, the progress of education calls for special reference at our hands. The introduction of high English education into the country practically dates from the commencement of Your Majesty's reign ; and the developments, since achieved, in every direction, have exceeded all expectation.

It is our pride to have materially contributed to the accomplishment of these results.

This University was established, in the year 1857, for the better encouragement of Your Majesty's subjects of all classes and denominations, in the pursuit of a regular and liberal course of education. The history of the University during these forty years bears ample testimony that this great object has been attained. In active connection with it, are 125 Colleges and 586 Schools; spread over Bengal, Assam, Burmah, Ceylon, Nepal, the Central India States, the Central Provinces, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and the Punjab. These send up to its examinations, Hindus, Mahomedans, Christians, Brahmas, Jews, Parsees, Buddhists, and others, with such varying vernaculars as Bengali, Armenian, Assamese, Burmese, Hindi, Khassia, Mahrathi, Parbatia, Tamil, Telugu, Urdu, Uriya, and English. There were in this, the 60th year of Your Majesty's reign, 5,934 candidates for matriculation, against 244 in 1857, and 1,658 for the B. A. Degree, against 13 in 1858; while from a small beginning of 13, its graduates now number nearly 10,000, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales heading the list of its Honorary Doctors in Law.

This University has also been an important factor in the development of the higher education of women. It is less than twenty years since its examinations were opened to female candidates, and already associated with it, are three Ladies' Colleges and twenty Girls' Schools, from which about a hundred candidates appear, each year, at its examinations, while for one lady-matriculate in 1879, there are now no fewer than twenty-five lady-graduates, one of whom, not long ago, won its highest competitive prize.

Thus has this University succeeded in effectually stimulating a healthy desire for a regular and liberal course of education. Those classes of Your Majesty's subjects who seemed for a time to hold back, are now as anxious as others to come forward, and even the aboriginal tribes are beginning to appreciate the benefits of education. And so, the English language has taken root as one of the institutions of the country, operating, perhaps more than any other, as a bond of union between the various races inhabiting this portion of Your Majesty's Empire.

While mainly concerned with the promotion of Western learning, this University has exerted no little influence in reviving the study of Eastern classics, and the general diffusion of Sanskrit learning now stands out as one of the most prominent features in the progress of education.

In these, as in other respects, Your Majesty's reign marks an epoch in the history of India's advance. Our hearts' desire and prayer is, that Your Majesty may be blessed with many more years of health, happiness, and prosperity, so that this University may have the privilege of witnessing yet more remarkable developments under Your Majesty's rule.

We are,
Your Majesty's Loyal Subjects,
Members of the Senate of the University of Calcutta."

The 22nd June, 1897.

“That three persons be appointed a Board of Examiners to set each of such papers as, in the opinion of the Syndicate, it is desirable to moderate ; that it be the duty of two of them to set the paper allotted to them, in consultation with each other, at a meeting ; that it be the duty of the third, who shall be appointed by the Syndicate, on the recommendation of the Board of Studies concerned,
